

June Moodboard: Host Gifts Edition

The pool floats, Viennese glassware and coffee-table books to guarantee an invite back—plus the latest openings from Miami to Mallorca on our wishlist this summer.

The start of summer also means it's the beginning of guest season. And because we're always trying to think of that clever gift that's a guarantee of another invite—which means not thinking about it last minute—we've dug deep so that you, and we, have a good list at the ready.

For the fancy host with an eye for elegant Viennese glassware (or multiple guest bathrooms), this Lobmeyer set nails the assignment.
